PUPIL HEALTH WARNING

Wayne O. Reed, deputy United States Commissioner of Education, told the nation's teachers not to neglect their students' health in the face of stern education needs of the space age.

Mr. Reed told a yuth fitness conference that "such a critical time in our nation's history' 'called for great emphasis on the fundamentals of education, suc has mathematics and science.

Must Be

Small British cars are becoming very popular in America because they do more miles to the gallon. It must be remembered that Americans not only have more miles than we but more gallons. —Punch.
